Rollo Peters, Greatest Romeo, Didn't Really Plan A Stage Career

BY RAYLYN PENNEY

Sometimes we become so accustomed to living with a lion in our midst that we forget he's a lion. It takes a stranger to ask, "Say, isn't that—?" And we answer, "Why, so it is, but he's been with us all along."

Rollo Peters is one of these. He grew up on the Monterey Peninsula and some time ago he returned to the very neighborhood of his boyhood, but meanwhile he was lionized for his achievements by a vast and appreciative public.

"Meanwhile" in this case refers to the era of the twenties-into-the-thirties, when the name Rollo Peters became a household word.

When he played for one thousand nights opposite Jane Cowl's Juliet and set a record for the longest run of Shakespeare in history, a score topped only in late years by Paul Robeson and Jose Ferrer in Othello.

When he made his debut for the Washington Square Players in The Age of Innocence opposite young Katherine Cornell.

When he appeared in an all-star cast of The Rivals with Mrs. Fiske and in Diplomacy with Charles Coburn.

When he played Tom Wrench in Arthur Pinero's Trelawney of the Wells, along with Helen Gahagan, Mrs. Thomas Wiffen, Otto Kruger and John Drew. (It was the final tour for the elderly Drew, who died when the cast was in San Francisco).

When he was the Syrian captain in Salome, Andrew Ferguson in John Ferguson, Asano in The Faithful, Hugh Rainey in Mixed Marriage, Pelleas in Pelleas and Melisande and Anthony in Anthony and Cleopatra.

And the strange part of the story is that Rollo Peters is one of those actors who, although stunningly successful, never really meant to go on the stage at all. The greatest Romeo of his generation became a stage actor in spite of his plans for himself, so he apparently did his best to correct the course of his career by retiring from the footlights as early as possible.

Although he is now only sixty-five years old, his last professional appearance was as Petruchio in Taming of the Shrew back in 1936. He says his case is the antithesis of his friends, and contemporaries, the Lunts, who seem unable even to dream of retirement from the theater.

The fact of his being born in Paris doesn't keep Charles Rollo Peters from being, nevertheless, a Californian, the scion of a pioneer San Francisco family. His grandfather, Charles Rollo Peters I, built the first bank in San Francisco and was a partner of banker William Ralston. With Ralston he also built the famous California Theater.

Charles Rollo II, one of this state's most lauded painters, was the first Peters to live on the Monterey Peninsula. He built the Peters family home in Monterey, in the neighborhood that still bears

COMING UP—

Monday night, 8:00 o'clock, council chambers, public hearing before the city council on the 40-60 motel ordinance. The hearing before the planning commission was just a rehearsal. This is it. Come early if you want a seat.

Tuesday night, 5:00 o'clock, maybe a second budget study session at city hall. Council murmured something about it when they broke up after first budget session (see story this page) last Tuesday night. City Clerk Larry Rose says he has no official notification of it. As far as he's concerned, it's just a rumor. And since the council wouldn't make up its mind about the tax cut and salary raise, he doesn't have an adjusted budget ready for them anyway.

Davies Seeks Water Dist. Board Seat

Newell A. Davies, San Luis Avenue and San Lucas Road, Carmel Woods, yesterday took out nomination papers from the county clerk's office in Salinas for the governing board of the proposed Monterey Peninsula Water District. Tuesday, James Patton of Seaside obtained his papers.

Mr. Davies is a consultant chemical engineer and investor. He has lived here for a year and a half. Previously he resided in San Luis Obispo County. He and his wife Constance have four children, Anne, ten; Helen, eight; Robert, four; and Barbara, three years old.

James Patton is a real estate salesman associated with the Frank Lockwood real estate firm. He has lived in Seaside since 1945 and served as president of the Seaside Chamber of Commerce and on the city council of Seaside. He failed to be re-elected to the council for another term in April.

Five directors are to be elected at the same time as the water district proposition is voted upon, one from each of five Peninsula areas.

These are: Pacific Grove, including part of Pebble Beach; Monterey; Seaside; Del Rey Oaks and Upper Carmel Valley, and Carmel.

Carmel's area takes in: Carmel Woods, City of Carmel, Point Lobos, Pebble Beach, precincts 4 and 6, and Carmel Valley precinct 1.

Each candidate must have not less than twenty and not more than 30 sponsor signatures.

Nominations close August 29.

Beaudin Buys Liquor License At Old Hearthstone

Arthur E. and Nicole J. Beaudin plan to operate a restaurant and bar in the former Hearthstone location on Ocean Avenue and have applied to the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board for a transfer of license from the Monterey Peninsula Development Company to their name.

The Beaudins have been operating a restaurant in Oregon recently. Before that Mr. Beaudin ran the Copa Restaurant in Monterey, in a location on Fremont Street previously occupied by Biff's. Fike's Volkswagen Center now uses the building. Mrs. Beaudin is the daughter of Charles Altair of Carmel Point.

Horvath's Car Runs Off Road And Flips

John Louis Horvath, 23, Santa Fe and First Streets, lost control of the car he was driving north on Agujito Road near the intersection of Manor Road at 5:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The car ran off the roadway and landed on its top. Leslie Molnare, 19, of Monterey, a passenger in the car, received minor injuries and was taken to the Monterey Hospital. Horvath is a mechanic for Fike's Volkswagen Center.

Council Delays Painful Duty To Reduce Taxes And Raise Employees Pay

The city council snipped $8,450 off their luxuriant budget of $370,908 at their first budget study session Tuesday night.

With their surplus, this is more than is needed to enable them to reduce property taxes two and a half cents and give the city employees a three percent raise.

They couldn't bring themselves to say they would—not yet—not right away.

No city council wants to reduce their spending money by lowering taxes or by raising wages.

And our city is so fiscally fat that our council is under a moral mandate to face up to the agony of doing both.

Be gentle with them this week when you meet them on the way to the post office. They're suffering.

But each of them has some trinket to console him. Jim Buffington, street commissioner, will have a chopper, cost $3,200. A chopper rolls around town and chews up branches and brush with a great lot of noise.

"We'll keep it moving," Councilman Buffington promised Tuesday night. "Nobody in any one neighborhood will have to hear it more than 20 minutes at a time."

An "street department" which consider themselves anybody have choppers. By chopping, you can stuff three truckloads of brush in one truck. Absolutely the last word in progress.

Then, there's to be a new street painting machine, $600. The old one is getting shabby. And a new street roller, $2,500. The street department used to borrow a roller when they needed one. Then the council bought them one of their own. Now they want two. We don't have any more streets to roll than we ever had but—well—the police department has two patrol cars, doesn't it? And the fire department has three fire engines. You could hardly expect the street department to settle for one ratty old roller.

To tell the truth, we don't really know why they're buying another

Mayor, Three Councilmen Endorse Water District Gunnar Norberg Says Niet

This week, forces emerged for and against the Monterey Peninsula Municipal Water District proposition which will be on the November 4 ballot.

Mayor John Chitwood has reversed his former position, and with three other Carmel City Councilmen, endorses the project in a letter published below.

Mayor Dan Searle of Monterey is opposed and told the Pine Cone he will work for the defeat of the measure.

Pacific Grove City Councilman Ed Coffin, a vigorous proponent, has called "a general meeting of the people interested in supporting the water district" for Monday night, 7:30 o'clock in the Pacific Grove Council Chambers.

Mayor Searle says he'll be there and have a few things to say. The California Water and Telephone Company, which owns the water system the proposed municipal district would take over, states its position in letters to its customers in paid advertisements in the peninsula newspapers. See page nine this issue of the Pine Cone.

Mayor Chitwood's letter:

CARMEL LITTLE LEAGUE CLUB DROPS FINAL GAME

Carmel's Little League Champs, Boys' Town, powered their way to the finals in the District Playoffs at Watsonville last weekend but bowed to Freedom's superior power in the championship game. Boys' Town reached the finals by clipping King City in Friday's semi-final game but couldn't cope with the three home runs generated by Freedom sluggers in Saturday's finals. Ron Jella and David Rosenkranz shared the hurling chores in Friday's winning effort and came back on Saturday to go fifty-fifty in the losing cause. Husky third-sacker John Tolbert scuttled the winning ambitions of the local Little Leaguers by blasting two home runs to drive in four runs and Freedom's catcher, Jim Lacy, contributed another homer.

Despite losing, 6 to 1, Boys' Town was even up with the winners in the hitting department, each club garnering 7 bingles. Ron Jella and Mike Paul were the leading Carmel hitters, both getting two hits in three trips to the plate. Pitcher shortstop David Rosenkranz found the range for a round-tripper but unfortunately there were no clothiers on the paths at the time.

This winds up Little League play for the Carmel youngsters this season and the 150 more boys who participated in the highly successful program this season will most certainly be eagerly awaiting the start of next season's play.

CRICKET CLUB ENTERTAINS MARIN SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Carmel's Del Monte Cricket Club plays host to the Marin Club in a 1:00 o'clock match at Carmel High School field which will wind up cricket play for the 1958 season. The local cricketers are 2-1 with Marin during the season and will be going all out to hold the edge over the visitors from marvelous Marin. In last Sunday's cricket action at Berkeley, Del Monte ran into the hot bat wielded by Lou Braga and dropped the decision, 69 to 46. Braga scored 32 runs before retiring and finished the season as the second highest scorer in Northern California. Alf Cooper, although clipped in the jaw by a hot shot across the pitch, swung the flat bat for 20 runs to lead the Del Monte scorers. Top bowler for the Del Monte Club was Rex Worth who came on in relief to take three wickets for three runs.

CARMEL SWIMMERS TOP PACIFIC GROVE AND GILROY

The undefeated Carmel swim team added a pair of victories to its long list by swamping Pacific Grove last Saturday and coming back on Tuesday to finish in front of the Gilroy natators. In the 223-168 win over Pacific Grove, Doyle Clayton and Mike Cook each scored 14 points to lead their teammates in the scoring department. In addition to copping high point honors, Cook and Clayton set new records in backstroke events.

Tuesday's win over Gilroy saw Lesley Strosnider, Cathy Dancy, and Pat Mosolf score triple wins for the Carmel splashers as they outscored the visitors, 185 to 113. Barbara Giles and Mike Cook picked up two blue ribbons apiece, Barbara copping the 25 freestyle and butterfly while Mike touched first in the butterfly and the individual medley.

Next competition for the enthusiastic Carmel swimmers is slated for Saturday morning when the Monterey Marlins invade the high school pool for a 9:30 meet. Monterey has a fast-improving squad and figures to give the classy Carmel swimmers a solid testing.

Besides being undefeated as a team, several Carmel swimmers have perfect records for individual events during the season. Ann Giles is undefeated in the individual medley. Lesley Strosnider has finished first in all her breaststroke events, Pat Mosolf is undefeated in the backstroke, and Doyle Clayton hasn't trailed anyone in the backstroke or the freestyle.

JOHN SCOTT WINS BILL ASKEW MEMORIAL TROPHY PIGEON RACE

John Scott won the Bill Askew Memorial Trophy, Sunday, proposed by Al Forbes, Del Rey Oaks and donated by various Carmel-Monterey-Seaside Pigeon Club members.

Nine lofts competed, with a total of 118 birds. Results in yards per minute from Martinez approximately 100 air miles to Monterey, are as follows: John Scott, Carmel Valley, 1071.30; John Scott, Carmel Valley, 1070.87; Maurice Hanssens, Carmel Valley, 1061.01; Gus Souza, Seaside, 1058.60; Gerry Artellan, Carmel Highlands, 1046.34; John Alves, Seaside, 1036.92; Andy Anderson, Del Rey Oaks, 1032.43; E. H. Barry, Monterey, 1009.16; Geo. Sykes & Son, Salinas, 1008.16; Jean Barbier, Marina, 927.69.

Next week's young bird race will be from Sacramento.

YOUTH CENTER WINS MONTEREY SOFTBALL TITLE

Carmel Youth Center's never-say-die softball team won the 1958 Monterey Socko League B-Division championship with a rousing 18-17 win over arch-rival Pacific Grove Rec Club. The Carmel sluggers were down 10 runs going into the fifth inning but rallied to pull the game out of the fire and take home the B-League pennant. For the uninitiated, Socko softball is a game where the batting team supplies their own pitcher and the premium is on the long ball. Director Jack Giles pitches for the Carmel team and is very adept at supplying the home run pitch for his charges. Mal Burdis, Andy Gray, and Gil Altamirano swung thundering bats for the local Youth Center in the big comeback for the championship.

There are two more games remaining on the schedule but Carmel has already sewn up the title and will go into the remaining games with a relaxed attitude. Next Tuesday night the CYC plays the Fremont Teachers in a 6:00 o'clock game at the El Estero ball park.

WHAT'S DOING

LIKE TO WIN $10? Just write me about your most memorable experience with a long distance call. For each true long distance story we use in this column, we'll pay $10. Maybe yours will be one of them!

Here's a sample of the kind of story we'd like to get:

The Richard Wilsons, of 14 Guerrero Street, lost their fox terrier, "Spot," on the last day of their vacation in the Sierra. When they searched the area around their cabin, they found no trace of the dog. As tears streamed down the faces of their sons, Rich, 8, and Steve, 5, the Wilsons sadly drove home. When they arrived, they decided to phone the ranger station near the cabin, on the slim chance that Spot had been seen. Said a ranger: "A stray fox terrier wandered up here an hour ago. I'll put him on the line." Then came the sound of Spot's barking across the miles—turning a tragedy into the happiest day of the year for the Wilsons.

On your most memorable long distance call did you give or receive some exciting news? Did a call help you solve a problem? Did you surprise someone you hadn't seen in a long time? Or maybe your call gave you a special lift, as a long distance call so often does. Just write:

D. D. Muir, Manager Pacific Telephone
404 Franklin Street, Monterey

HERE ARE THE SIMPLE RULES:

1. True story of your most memorable long distance call.
2. Print name, address and telephone number at top of your story.
3. Send story to local manager listed above. Manuscripts cannot be returned.
4. Pacific Telephone and its advertising agency will be sole judges of acceptability.
5. Contest closes, Monday, September 15, 1958.
6. Employees of Pacific Telephone and their advertising agency, and members of their families are not eligible.

Peters, Greatest Romeo, Didn't Really Plan A Stage Career

his name, Peters Gate. He died in 1928, an artist famous for his conversational agility, his thoroughbred horses and his nocturnes of California Missions by moonlight.

The present bearer of the name was educated in California, and he attended Monterey High School one year prior to being dispatched to art schools in England, Germany and France. Taking a cue from his sire, he became a painter but began specializing in theater design.

As a young man he designed scenery and costumes for various New York productions including The Prince and the Pauper, Salome, Camille, Madame Sand, Little Men, Bonds of Interest, John Ferguson, Romeo and Juliet, Anthony and Cleopatra, Pelleas and Melisande and The Depths.

With Lawrence Langer he founded the Theater Guild for which he designed and produced plays. He designed and produced all the plays produced in those years by the Washington Square Players and during these experiences it was a natural step into acting. From the list of plays in the preceding paragraph it's fairly obvious that he often designed, produced and acted in the same plays at the same times.

He also directed, later taking on the job of directing for all of Miss Cowell's Shakespearean productions.

The man who "not only looks like Romeo but plays him with rare tenderness," to quote the reviews of the period, willingly reminisces about the theater in the good days and willingly answers questions about people most of us know only as names once in lights.

Yes, he knew Madame Duse. Yes, John Drew was a compelling personality and a true gentleman as publicized, both on and off stage. And yes, Rollo Peters has his own special memory of John Barrymore's sturdy reluctance to take life seriously. It involves a luncheon date Peters and Barrymore made at the Astor Hotel, to which the latter went wearing a pair of false fangs, peering out of a turned-up overcoat and terrifying passers-by, especially feminine passers-by.

There is an almost wistful note in the 1925 edition of Who's Who in the Theater which declares one of Rollo Peter's favorite pastimes to be "country life." Perhaps he was recalling California when he said this. But immediately after quitting the stage in the thirties, he retired to country life in the Hudson River Valley where he purchased and remodelled early American homes which he sold to theater friends.

Misfortune found him here in a mammoth, heavily beamed structure which he had had entirely brick-covered and had just sold to Tallulah Bankhead. Before Miss Bankhead's occupancy, while Peters still lived in the house, a night fire swept it, destroying practically everything, including his scrapbooks of theater programs and press clippings and other mementoes of his life as an actor.

The usually cryptic actress refers regretfully in her biography to the dual hardship that befell her and her friend Rollo Peters. The Nyack fire was caused by the explosion of a boiler. A few cherished small pieces of furniture rescued from the holocaust appear in the present Peters home at 923 Alameda Street, Monterey, near Peters Gate.

In retirement this stately, somewhat redoubtable gentleman lives quietly. In 1944-45 he made one brief return to the world of grease paint when he toured overseas with Peggy Wood in Blithe Spirit for the USO.

More recently he headed the Drama Festival here, was head of the Monterey Museum Board and now serves on the Jazz Festival Committee. He likes parties and festive occasions; he entertains and is entertained by many friends.

A current pet project is a design he's making for a gala blue-and-white striped Arabian Nights-type tent for the Laguna Seca road races, "so it won't look so dull out there." (A similar tent had been borrowed from a movie company but the company borrowed it back). He'll be among those who watch the races from the colorful canopy. It seems obvious that he'll accomplish what he has set out to do. Nothing designed and produced by Rollo Peters, in which Rollo Peters is likely also to appear, could ever possibly be dull.

Mary To Return With Lucy

Lucy Elstob leaves on August 25 for a visit in Santa Monica with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sherman (Lucy Elstob), and their two children, Laura, three, and Karl, one. When Mary returns to Carmel early in September, Lucy, Laura and Karl will come with her to visit Mary's and Lucy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Elstob.

Dr. and Mrs. McVey and their daughters, Margaret, six, and Mary, almost two years old, have lived here for a year and a quarter while Dr. McVey was, first, an operations analyst for Technical Operations and, secondly, for the Stanford Research Institute which absorbed the former outfit and its location on the peninsula. The McVeys leave here at the end of September.

Lindsay-Oliver's Student Recital Gives Pleasure

Visitors to the Carmel Foundation Town House greatly enjoyed a recital on the afternoon of August 6 by the pupils of Mary Lindsay-Oliver. An interesting variety of numbers was presented, beginning with the beautiful Aria From a Persian Garden, by Lehman, sung by Marjorie Pegram.

For one of the performers this was a debut as a solo singer. This was Ora Fallis, who has a lovely soprano voice that will surely improve with further cultivation. She sang Sullivan's Orpheus With His Lute, and a very charming number, My Song to You, by Miss Lindsay-Oliver. Anita Sohn sang very effectively Schubert's Faith in Spring, and an aria from Verdi's Don Carlo. Carmel audiences are increasingly pleased with the fine baritone voice of David Schoenbrod. He sang Meinen Kuhlén Gründe, a lovely German folksong, the vigorous Friar of Orders Gray, by Shield, and the familiar Evening Star aria from Tannhäuser.

Then to end the program we heard the Scottish song, O Wert Thou in the Cauld Blast, by Mendelssohn, sung, as a duet, by Jo Anne and David Schoenbrod. A lovely blending of two excellent voices.

In the middle of the program was a delightful piano group by a very young and charming Nancy Caravan. She played a Prelude by Chopin, and a Minuet from Haydn, with a childish lack of self-consciousness that was altogether charming. Several of the performers responded to encores. Miss Lindsay-Oliver was the accompanist throughout the program, and her arrangement and direction of the program were greatly appreciated by the audience.

Harriet Bowker

Mrs. Harriet Boquist Bowker died on Monday five days after coming from Porterville with her daughter, Mrs. Virginia B. Perry, to live in Carmel. She was born in Petaluma on January 11, 1871.

Survivors, besides Mrs. Perry, are two other daughters, Mrs. Harriet B. Walsh of Monterey and Mrs. Lucy Frances Bridge of Belvedere; four sons, Walter K. Bowker of Mexicali, Harry B. Bowker of Rolling Hills Estates, Frank Bowker of West Covina and Victor Bowker of Porterville; a sister, Mrs. Cora B. Jepsen of Piedmont; 20 grandchildren and 29 great-grandchildren.

Private memorial services for Mrs. Bowker were held yesterday afternoon in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walsh, in Monterey. Inurnment will be in the Hollywood Cemetery.

Back From Desert And Mountains

Peter Carpenter and John Broadbent came home to Carmel on Monday from a two week's holiday spent in Las Vegas and at Lake Tahoe.

Guy Tompson

Guy Aominious Tompson, former vice president of Bethlehem Steel Company and president of Bethlehem Supply Company, died on Tuesday evening in a local hospital after a brief illness. Mr. Tompson came from Tulsa, Oklahoma, to Carmel six months ago and lived at San Antonio Street and Eighth Avenue.

He was born in Skidmore, Missouri, on November 11, 1886, and became an authority in the oil well supply field. He also was active in civic affairs in Tulsa and belonged to the Tulsa Lodge, F. & A.M. Here he was a member of the Carmel Presbyterian Church.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Clara Stevenson Tompson of Carmel; a daughter, Mrs. Jack Riggs of Salinas; a son, Gilbert C. Tompson of Midland, Texas; a sister, Miss Marie Tompson of Kansas City, Missouri; a brother, Irwin Tompson of Savannah, Missouri; and seven grandchildren.

Memorial services for Mr. Tompson, conducted by Dr. Joseph M. Ewing pastor of the Carmel Presbyterian Church, were held this afternoon in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea in Pacific Grove.

Friends wishing to honor the memory of Mr. Tompson may do so in the form of donations to the New Peninsula Community Hospital Building Fund, Carmel.

Music On The Peninsula

By MARY LINDSAY-OLIVER

Last Sunday's brilliant day was a perfect setting for the outdoor band concert at Colton Hall in Monterey where a large audience, including many children, sat on chairs or sprawled on the grass to listen to the woodwind and brass Municipal Band, conducted by Herb Miller, former teacher of the Pacific Grove school orchestras. It was the sixth event of its initial season, though fifty years ago there had been a group supported by the City of Pacific Grove.

Herb Miller, organizing a dance orchestra, found he had a nucleus for a real band, and with his enthusiasm and desire to bring music to the wider public, outdoors, he has collected competent players from all walks of life, including a few regular symphony orchestra members and several high school students. He is presenting only good music that people know and like, which on Sunday was receiving keen applause from the public assembled on the lawn.

With Mrs. Grace Howden and F. W. Titus, of Carmel, I heard most of the program to its finale. At intermission Mrs. Howden, who had sung in Sousa's opera in New York, sent up a request to Miller for a Sousa march, and he responded with a stirring performance of "The Washington Post," after announcing over the megaphone that it was in honor of Mrs. Howden. This was followed by the Mississippi Suite, which he said was for Lindsay-Oliver, though he probably did not know of my long professional sojourn on the "Midwest banks of the Mississippi!" Or did he?

This was my first hearing of the band, which is a valuable contribution to the community and one that, as Miller stated, helps the "unconscious education" going on everywhere today. It was this that Plato inferred when he stated that music reaches the soul as nothing else can! The Musical Union and the cities of Monterey and Pacific Grove are sharing, fifty-fifty, in the financial support, and there are still five more Sunday concerts to be given, thanks to the initiative of Herb Miller, who handles the band with distinctive musicianship, and occasionally leads with his trumpet, which he played in the early Monterey County Symphony Orchestra.

WE NEED A CLUB MEETING

The We Needa Club for the handicapped will meet tonight at 8:00 o'clock at the Neighborhood Center, Scholz Park, Lighthouse and Dickman Streets, New Monterey. Members will discuss plans for fall activities. There will be games, later. Mrs. J. W. Patterson, EX 4-4390, is in charge of transportation.

The organization wishes to thank all those who helped with their chicken dinner on August 2.

Weygers Shows New Set Of Art Slides Tonight At Circle

Artographer Alexander Weygers will present an entirely new selection of color slides entitled "Tidepools and Beaches at the Golden Bough Circle Theatre tonight. The techniques developed by Weygers for the artistic explorations of plants and flowers with a tele-scopic lens have been put to use on a great variety of seaweeds, shells and other underwater phenomena with results even more spectacular than those which astonished audiences at Weygers' previous lecture, Beauty in Your Own Back Yard.

Sculptor Weygers, who only recently began using the camera as an adjunct to his art, has found photography more hazardous than he expected. Attempts to photograph marine life have nearly resulted in a dunking for both camera and photographer on several occasions. Spray, wind, surf and shellfish have made it extremely difficult to discover beautiful underwater images and capture them in time exposures. But repeated efforts along the shore and with an aquarium have yielded a large group of pictures unlike any previously displayed.

Tidepools and Beaches will have two evening showings, at 7:00 and 9:00 o'clock.

The Al Cooks Buy Spinning Wheel Lodge

Mr. and Mrs. Al Cook of Pebble Beach have bought the Spinning Wheel Lodge from Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Motta. Mrs. Cook's father, Louis A. Olsen will operate the business for his son-in-law and daughter.

The Cooks came from Detroit a year and a half ago. They first bought and sold the El Padre Motel at the foot of Carmel Hill, then purchased the Valley Lodge in Carmel Valley. They sold this motel on July 1 and on August 5 bought the Motta's Lodge on Monte Verde Street. They have one son, Michael, a junior at Carmel High School.

MOBILE X-RAY UNIT WILL BE HERE MONDAY

The Monterey County Health Department's mobile X-Ray unit visits Carmel on Monday afternoon from 1:00 till 5:00 o'clock. It will be parked near the post office to give free chest X-Rays to all persons desiring this service. Results will be mailed after plates have been read by the department.

Chief Smith Commends Volunteers In His Annual F. D. Report

Fire Chief Robert Smith, in his annual report to the city council, listed 725 man hours spent by the volunteers on drilling and training. "This amounts to about 91 working days," he pointed out.

Two members of the department spent a week at the Berkeley Fire Department for training, and 27 men completed the pump operators course sponsored by the state department of education.

Projects completed by the department: the underwriter survey, which resulted in a class change for the city from 5B to 5A, and a seven and a half percent saving on insurance rates for frame buildings.

The fire house interior was painted and roof repaired; a regular truck maintenance and regular drill and training program put in operation.

A total of 430 men answered 28 fire alarms during the year. Fire loss amounted to $1,807, while valuation of the property involved in the fires amounted to $308,200. Total property value the fire department protects $12,000,000.

The department also responded to 72 ambulance calls.

In summary, Chief Smith says: "The various projects, efficient training, and fire suppression could not have been accomplished without the volunteer fire fighters and volunteer officers."

"In this report I wish to commend the volunteer men for their civic pride, love of community, and for the fine response that they have shown."

"Without the leadership of the past and present volunteer officers of this department, our volunteer program could not be successful."

"It behooves us all to be thankful for the men who ride our fire engines, for their sincerity and sense of responsibility cannot be questioned."

Midshipman Roger Bullene stands in Copenhagen harbor beside the statue commemorating Hans Christian Andersen's mermaid. He visited Denmark on a training cruise aboard the USS Robert H. McCard, a destroyer. Other ports of call were in Portugal and Belgium where he went to the World Fair in Brussels. Roger arrived in Carmel last Friday to spend his summer leave of almost a month with his mother, Mrs. E. F. Bullene of Hatton Fields. His father was the late General Bullene. When he returns to Annapolis Roger will be a third classman and will graduate in 1960.

Walter Hoey

Walter Joseph Hoey died on Saturday in a local hospital after a short illness. He was born in San Francisco on March 9, 1902. Until 10 months ago he lived in Eugene, Oregon, then came here to reside at Carmelo Street and Seventeenth Avenue.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Cleoda Margaret Cook Hoey of Carmel; three sons, William Walter Hoey, a student at the University of California, Jack Cook Hoey, attending the University of Oregon, and Henry Patrick Hoey of Carmel; and a sister, Mrs. Curt Campbell of Grinda.

Private funeral services, conducted by Dr. Joseph M. Ewing of the Carmel Presbyterian Church, were held yesterday morning in the Paul Funeral Chapel. Burial followed in Cemetery El Encinal in Monterey.

Mary Van Sant

Mrs. Mary Capitola Van Sant died on Saturday in her home on Fourth Street after a long illness. She was born on October 4, 1879, in Grinnell, Iowa, and lived in Oakland before moving to Carmel 24 years ago. Her husband Plummer Van Sant died in 1953.

She is survived by a son, Donald Van Sant of San Mateo; and two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Faye Eames of Callahan and Mrs. Margaret Darbee of San Francisco.

Private funeral services for Mrs. Van Sant were held yesterday afternoon in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea Crematorium.

Ella Buckmaster

Private funeral services for Mrs. Ella Coulter Buckmaster were held on Monday afternoon in the Mission Mortuary. She died on August 7 in her home on Forest Road after a short illness.

Mrs. Buckmaster was born in New Virginia, Iowa, on September 12, 1875. She lived in Seattle, Washington, until moving to Carmel seven years ago. Her husband, William Buckmaster, died in 1929.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Grace Fontes and Mrs. Doris Brand, both of Carmel, and Mrs. Beth Agnes Knox of Seattle; two sons, William R. Buckmaster and Ernest L. Buckmaster, both of

Mary Anna Smith

Mrs. Mary Anna Smith of Carmel Valley died in a Salinas hospital on August 4 after several months of ill health. She was born in Arroyo Grande 79 years ago.

Mrs. Smith was the widow of Bill Smith of Santa Maria and lived in that city until 12 years ago when she came to reside with her sister, Mrs. L. E. Payne of Carmel Valley.

Besides Mrs. Payne, she is survived by two other sisters, Mrs. Maude Stewart of Carmel and Mrs. Jack Buttle of Pebble Beach; and two brothers, E. C. Kitchen of Pebble Beach and W. J. Kitchen of Albion.

The Reverend Wendell Ensor of the First Methodist Church of Salinas officiated at funeral services for Mrs. Smith on Monday in the Struve and La Porte Mortuary, Salinas. Inurnment followed in the Garden of Memories.

AUGUST previews

Autumn's first exciting events...

August is very special in the way of shopping. In home equipment stores August means money-saving linen and bedding sales. For mothers it means back-to-school shopping—everything from shoes and sweaters for grade-school tots to smart campus fashions for the young college man or woman.

In our temperate clime August signifies months of glorious outdoor living just ahead—garden, patio, and terrace breakfasting, dining, sunning. So this is the time to replenish barbecue, hostess, and garden accessories.

August means late vacations, the hunting season just ahead, autumn traveling when resorts, highways and hotels are less crowded, perhaps even a late-season jaunt to Europe.

Shop now for the months of busy activity ahead, and shop at home, where a portion of each dollar you spend returns to you in better value, more variety in merchandise, finer service in your local stores.

Wharf's Period Piece Of The 20's Has Charm

BY MAX TADLOCK

For the second time in a row this reviewer has seen a musical at the Wharf Theatre which he felt was as enjoyable or exceeded in excellence professional performances of the same plays he had seen elsewhere.

Damn Yankees, which recently closed, was certainly every bit as much fun as the London company's production. And so, I am pleased to report, is the current hit, Sandy Wilson's The Boy Friend.

Director-designer Ben Small, with the aid of dance director Dale Leffler and art crew Lee Marzola and Allen Stein, has captured in a kaleidoscope the postures and the clichés of the 1920's, particularly as the musical theatre of the 1920's presented them. The result, fleeting shades of Betty Boop, Harold Teen, George McManus' cartoons, starry-eyed flappers, sappy boyfriends, very French maids, poor little rich girl, prince charming in disguise — all with a slightly British flavor, of course, because the play was written originally for London supper club performance. A terrific show which looks back in the spirit of good fun and "remember when?" and avoids the unnecessary bite of satire.

Because of the size of the cast, it is impossible to describe all the excellent bits they portrayed. However, there were some particularly eye- and ear-catching performances. Jim Kinney as Tony, the boy friend of heroine Polly Browne, displays the same arresting stage presence and excellent voice that made him so popular in the lead of Damn Yankees. And Colleen Fitzgerald as Polly lent an appealing and wistful 1920's air to her role. Her duets with Kinney and with Peggy Chandler as finishing school headmistress Madame Dubonnet were delightful, even though her tap routine might well be dropped. Listed as an alternate to Dee Olivetti in the role of Madame Dubonnet, Peggy Chandler was probably the most successful audience-pleaser on stage Monday night when this reviewer saw the performance. Perfect foil for her slightly past prime Gallic charm was smooth Nick LeFeuvre as Polly's widowed father.

Ben Small and Jane E. Parker were the caricatured Lord and Lady Brockhurst; Jim Newcomer was the British version of the All-American Boy, Rich Type; Kathy Kollmer as Hortense, the French maid, showed a good touch for comic portrayal.

However, were the "girl friends." Their highly stylized flapper costumes and equally stylized stage movements and voices made the play the period piece it is. They were outstanding enough to have carried the show, even if the rest had not been so well done. Their names — Pat McNight as Maizie; Peggie Ray as Dulcie; Leonora De Heer as Nancy; Liz Fogie as Fay; and Marilyn Hellman as Pansy. Their boyfriends were played by Karl Keesling, Mel Kirkpatrick, Gene Wugofsky, and Ray Hernandez. David Taylor supplied the ragtime piano.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg
This Friday morning, August 15, at 10:00 o'clock in the morning, we are holding our annual party for the members of the summer reading club. The affair will be held at the Girl Scout House. Do make sure that the small club members in your family get to the party. We want them all.

This annual party for reading club members, always means that summer is on the wane and so it is time for our annual fiction festival, or something. At any rate we are doing what we have done in other years and start circulating this week a longer than usual string of novels. Leave us be gay!

There is Helen Hull's bit of light summer reading called Wind Rose. Laid in Maine, it is the story of running an under-staffed, under-financed summer hotel with tourists all over the place. A light story with a happy ending. There is also a fresh seafaring book by John Jennings, this one entitled The Tall Ships. The story has to do with the war of 1812 and a young lad who joined the navy to get away from certain escapades at home.

The Longest Night by Ada Cook Lewis is the Eve of Saint Bartholomew before the Protestant massacre in Paris in the sixteenth century. This is a better than average historical novel, according to the Virginia Kirkus review service. Starred as strongly recommended in the same service letter is The Executioners by John MacDonald. It is the gripping story of the helplessness of a young lawyer when a man he has convicted and sent to prison returns to kill him "six times over". The lawyer and his family are likeable people; the killer is vicious; the story is exciting.

The Wine Princes is the story of the Prince family of Orporto, Portugal, who have been in the wine industry for many generations. It is especially the story of Perpetine and Johnathan Prince, in their turbulent lives and the romances. Not a strong book, but probably good summer reading. This being a good time to read short stories, between sessions with house guests, we have a new collection by Bernard Malamud entitled The Magis Barrel. There are thirteen stories in the book, many of which are small masterpieces of short story writing. And we have also the Collected Short Stories of Aldous Huxley.

The 100 days of Napoleon's return from Elba are the time setting for Manceron's So Brief a Spring. The intrigues surrounding Napoleon's short bid for power are vividly recounted in this massive historical novel.

We have a lot of them, not quite a million, but about twenty six, and there are several good mysteries among them. Come on in, the books are fine.

A MESSAGE TO THE CUSTOMERS OF THE CALIFORNIA WATER & TELEPHONE COMPANY

CALIFORNIA WATER & TELEPHONE COMPANY
481 TYLER STREET
MONTEREY, CALIFORNIA
FRONTIER 8-8108

To Our Customers:

Some of you have expressed a desire in questions to employees of this company to know whether the company is for or against the formation of a municipal water district in this area. This issue will be submitted to voters at the general election on November 4, 1958.

In studying the matter we have been unable to find any advantage to our customers if the district is formed. Service cannot be improved or rates lowered. It is merely the formation of another taxing agency in addition to those that now exist and it is the opening step in political control of your water system.

We have always been proud of the efficiency of the service we have rendered on the Monterey Peninsula, particularly in view of the difficulties of service in the area. It is necessary to go many miles to a mountain source to obtain good quality water and bring it in through a long transmission main. Costly storage and pumping facilities are also required to serve customers scattered over a wide area.

We desire to continue to supply water service on the Monterey Peninsula, and the calling of this election makes it advisable, in fairness to all our customers, to state clearly that our water facilities are not for sale.

Because the company does not want to sell its property, we have not set a price on it. Neither do we intend to negotiate a selling price. Moreover, the present-day value of the company's property is far in excess of the $12,200,000 which has been mentioned as the amount of a bond issue.

The company recognizes and respects the right of voters to decide whether they wish to continue to be served by business management under the strict regulations of the State Public Utilities Commission or whether they wish to inaugurate political management of the water system without any regulation whatever.

We appreciate the kind and friendly comments many of you have made recently to our employees. Pending your decision as a voter, the company will continue to fulfill wholeheartedly its obligation of providing good water service to its customers.

Sincerely,

Chester H. Loveland

Dr. and Mrs. Vincent D. O'Connor waved farewell to their daughter, Connie, on Wednesday when she left San Francisco Airport with Mr. and Mrs. William D. Pratt and Mrs. Pratt's daughter, Lynne Goldwater, to spend a year in Europe. In New York they will be joined by Mr. Pratt's daughter, Alex, then sail on August 29 on the Liberte. Headquarters until Christmas will be Paris. Connie and Lynne take a special course for foreign students at the Sorbonne during this time. After a Christmas holiday in Switzerland, the group will travel on the continent until next summer.

Connie, a junior at Carmel High last year and a songleader, plans to enter Dominican College in San Rafael when she returns to this country.

On Sunday Dr. and Mrs. O'Connor entertained at a farewell luncheon party for the travellers at the Tennis Ranch in Carmel Valley. Guests were the O'Connors' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ellet Horsman of Hillsborough, and their three sons; Connie's brother, Vincent O'Connor Jr. of Westlake, with his wife and two small daughters; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Budd, Carla and Nicki; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Draper with Wendy, Susan and Mike; Mrs. Doris Eaker and Alan; Mrs. J. M. Wrightson; Miss Margaret Teufer, Miss Kathryn McAndrews and James I. Harkins of Stockton, and Dr. Charles B. Hudson of Oakland.

Mrs. Pratt's son, Bob Goldwater, will be in New York to say goodbye to the Carmel travellers. Afterwards he returns to Tucson to enter the University of Arizona. Bob graduated from Carmel High School in June, and has been spending the summer working in Phoenix.

Cindy Arrives Tomorrow

Eager to work on Carmel High School songleading routines, senior songleader Lucinda Lloyd arrives in Carmel tomorrow after a summer spent as riding and riflery councillor at Cedar Lake Camp in the San Bernardino mountains. During her time at the camp near Big Bear Lake, she met former Carmelite Richard Boone (Paladin) on location for his Have Gun, Will Travel TV programs, and spent a day riding his horse, Rudy, learning about TV filming and giving him news of his Carmel friends. Dick Boone acted in the melodramas at the First Theatre and took parts in other local dramatic presentations during the years he lived here.

Monique Boutet Bride

A home on Aguajito Road on Jacks' Peak awaited Lieutenant and Mrs. Martin Wilckens Kunze (USN) when they returned from a San Francisco honeymoon. Their marriage took place in Carmel Mission on July 26. Mrs. Kunze is the former Monique Boutet, daughter of Mrs. Marcel Boutet of Carmel and the late Mr. Boutet. Lieutenant Kunze, an Annapolis graduate, is stationed here at the Naval Post Graduate School. He is the son of Mrs. Theodore Kunze of Fairhaven, New Jersey, and the late Mr. Kunze.

The Gene Bakers Visit

Gene Baker, announcer for TV program Queen For A Day, and Mrs. Baker have been vacationing in Carmel as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wardell Jennings of Hatton Fields. Mr. Jennings was formerly a producer in Hollywood. During this time, Gene Baker, who has a fine baritone singing voice, performed on Mr. Jennings' programs. The Bakers were visiting Carmel for the first time and the Jennings enjoyed helping them explore this area.

Mr. Jennings is now a business associate of Barney Segal, having charge of real estate in the Carmel Savings and Loan office.

To Teach At Navajo Mission

Mrs. Catherine Baker who came to live in Carmel some months ago, after the death of her husband in Oklahoma, leaves at the end of this month to teach fifth and sixth grades and music at the Navajo Mission School in Holbrook, Arizona. She formerly, for 20 years, taught high school English. The principal of the Holbrook school has told Mrs. Baker that Navajo children have a natural ability for music, as they do for art, and she is eagerly anticipating her work with them. Mrs. Baker has also taken a course in the Laubach literacy method, which teaches reading and writing by means of simple symbols, and hopes to be able to use this method of instruction among the Navajos. She has been living here with her sister, Mrs. L. F. Miller.

"Only Hills Beautiful", Says Simon

Simon Wadleigh of London arrived at the Oakland airport on Monday to be Carmel High School American Field Services foreign exchange student for this year. He was driven to Carmel by Dr. W. E. Bleick and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Laidlaw Williams at Carmel Highlands until September. He will live for the rest of the year with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest K. Gann of Pebble Beach. Illness prevents Mrs. Gann from having Simon as her guest at present, and her husband and children, Steven and Polly Gann, are in Europe.

Simon arrived in Carmel too late on Monday evening to have any definite impressions of this area, but of his trip down he says, "coming out of San Francisco on Highway 101 was ugly, nothing but subdivisions and telephone poles, only the hills in the distance were beautiful".

Mr. and Mrs. Williams were in Oakland to meet Simon on Sunday, but the chartered plane on which he was to arrive was delayed for a day, and they had to return without him. Their trip had an unusual turn. While eating dinner in a Palo Alto restaurant Saturday night they suddenly found themselves in the midst of a teenage switchblade fight. "It was unnerving", says Mrs. Williams.

Drivotrainer Course

Last week Richard B. Lawitzke, driver education instructor at Carmel High School, was in Los Angeles for a teacher training course on the Drivotrainer, a nine-car installation for giving realistic behind-the-wheel training in the classroom. A Drivotrainer goes into operation at the High School this fall. Mr. Lawitzke learned operation of the device in a course at Los Angeles State College, on a scholarship grant from Aetna Casualty and Surety Company which developed the Drivotrainer.

New Members And Committee

Mrs. Alexander Arnot and Mrs. Manuel C. Freitas were introduced as new members at the last meeting of the Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services. Mrs. Roy Page heads the committee for the dinner at the MPVS Country Carnival on September 26 at Rancho Del Monte. Assisting her will be Mrs. J. E. Abernethy, Mrs. King Benton, Mrs. Gilbert Campbell, Mrs. Leonard Carpenter, Mrs. Charles Couzens, Mrs. Edward J. Dwyer,

Mrs. Gerrit Henry, Mrs. Laurids Jorgenson, Mrs. Carl Menneken, Mrs. Edward P. McMurtry, Mrs. Mildred P. Riker, Mrs. E. M. Seifert Jr., Mrs. Harlan Ware, Mrs. G. W. C. Whiting, Mrs. Della Williams, Miss Greta Pack and Miss Margaret Prosser.

Camilla Canfield To Marry

Today, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew C. Jenkins of Pebble Beach are announcing the engagement of Mrs. Jenkins' daughter, Camilla Canfield, to Raymond Paul Sullivan Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Sullivan of San Francisco.

Camilla's father, Major Robert W. Canfield, was killed over Germany in 1943. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Lathrop Brown who live on their ranch below Big Sur, and the late Mr. and Mrs. George F. Canfield of New York. She has one sister, Pamela Canfield, a student at the Katherine Branson School, and a brother, George Canfield, serving in the Air Force.

Paul's grandparents are Mrs. Frank Eastman and the late Mr. Eastman, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Timothy J. Sullivan all of San Francisco.

Both Camilla and Paul are employed by the H. S. Crocker Company in San Francisco. They plan to be married early next year.

Visits From Switzerland

Mrs. Theresia Moser gave such enticing accounts of Carmel, when she returned to Switzerland for a visit this year, that her sister, Mrs. Bertha Kaess, decided to come here this summer. For the next two months Mrs. Kaess will be here and help Mrs. Moser in the latter's Little Swiss Cafe. Already, in two weeks' time, Mrs. Kaess has acquired a speaking knowledge of English and written to her husband to come here, too, to live.

Susan Midloch Bride

The Highlands Inn chapel was the scene of informal services Tuesday evening uniting in marriage Susan Midloch of Pebble Beach and Mel Sory of Monterey. Both young people were 1958 graduates of local schools, the bride of Pacific Grove High School and Mel of Monterey Union High School, where he was captain of the football team. Officiating at the rites, which were witnessed by family members, was the Reverend Karel V. Vit of the Monterey Peninsula Unitarian Fellowship, a close friend of the bride and her father, who is Miles Midloch of Pebble Beach.

Dedication At MPC

The faculty and administration of Monterey Peninsula College have sent out invitations for the Engineering Building Dedication and Bench Mark Ceremony on August 23 at 10:00 o'clock in the morning. Dean R. Hultgren, College of Engineering, University of California, will be the featured speaker at the affair. After the ceremony refreshments will be served in the Student Union.

Goodrich Varied Vacation

Newton and Norinne Goodrich saw San Francisco shows and the Ice Follies, and visited Norinne's parents in San Jose before returning to Carmel for the last part of their vacation. Newt went deer hunting when he came home without his usual luck. There's no deer meat in the Goodrich freezer so far this year.

In Carmel To Study Art

Charles Glasgow has come to Carmel from the Santa Ynez Valley to spend a month studying painting with Richard Lofton. Mr. Glasgow is staying at La Playa Hotel during his Carmel visit.

Miss Sascha Willcox, daughter of Mrs. L. Willcox of Carmel, is one of the 20 young women who will graduate from the Saint Francis Memorial Hospital School of Nursing in San Francisco at commencement exercises on August 21, at the War Memorial Auditorium there.

The school was established in 1905, and Miss Willcox's class is the fifty-first to be graduated. The ceremonies mark the end of the three year extensive course in nurses' training. After the state board examination in the fall, they will have achieved the professional status of registered nurse.

Miss Willcox is a graduate of the Carmel High School and has chosen pediatric nursing as her specialty.

Clarks Back From Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. Kent Clark are back from a honeymoon in Southern California. With their house at Lobos and Third Streets "almost settled", Mrs. Clark is looking forward to days of sailing with her husband in his Mercury class boat, The Querida, in Stillwater Cove Yacht Club events.

The Clarks were married in the Carmel Presbyterian Church on July 31 by Dr. Joseph M. Ewing. Mrs. Clark is the daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Melville Grant (USA ret.) of Salt Lake City. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Kent Clark Sr. of Carmel. He graduated from Monterey Union High School before attending the California Maritime Academy in Tiburon, then spent two years in the U. S. Maritime Service. At present he is employed by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company at Moss Landing.

Harry Lillis Crosby III Born

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lillis Crosby of Pebble Beach have a son named after his father and grandfather. The baby was born August 8 in the Queen of Angels Hospital in Los Angeles. His birth weight was seven pounds, nine ounces. Harry's half-brothers are Gary, twins Dennis and Phillip, and Lindsay Crosby.

Gray Burnham Engaged

Gray Burnham of Pebble Beach and George A. Hynes Jr. of San Francisco announced their engagement on Sunday at the party which Mr. and Mrs. Blair McDonald gave in honor of Mary Belle Follis and Tracy Van Voorhees who will be married in September. The luncheon was held at the Carmel Valley home of Blair's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. McDonald.

Gray is the daughter of Mrs. Carol A. McKenney of Pebble Beach and Dr. Clark Burnham of Piedmont. She graduated from Sunset School and spent her freshman year at Carmel High School before transferring to Santa Catalina School for Girls for the rest of her high school education. She next attended the University of California where she was president of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. After graduating from Cal, Gray spent six months in Europe with Dr. and Mrs. McKenney and her two sisters, Robin and Wendy.

She returned from abroad in March and met her fiance at a party in San Francisco. He is the son of Mrs. George A. Hynes of San Francisco and the late Mr. Hynes and the brother of Mrs. Henry T. Fulton of San Francisco. After graduating from the University of California, where he was affiliated with Chi Phi fraternity, he served in Korea with the U. S. Marine Corps and now has a captain's commission in the Marine Reserve. He will relinquish membership in the Bachelors of San Francisco when he and Gray are married in late November. They will live in San Francisco, where George is a businessman.

Jennifer Cowan First Child

Major and Mrs. Jackson Joseph Cowan became parents for the first time on August 8 when their daughter, Jennifer Nabors, was born at the Monterey Hospital. Her birth weight was seven pounds, three ounces.

Jennifer's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sloss of San Francisco and Mrs. Stephen Cowan of Dallas, Texas. She has two great-grandmothers, Mrs. Irvin Barth of Carmel and Mrs. M. C. Sloss of San Francisco. Her father is owner and director of the Carmel Valley Day School and Forest Hill School in Carmel.

Talcott Bates Family Home

"We're back but not settled," says Mrs. Talcott Bates busy unpacking the contents of boxes, bales and cartons accumulated during the year which she and Dr. Bates and their four sons, David, Seth, Tony and Chuck, have spent in Europe. They arrived home ten days ago.

Warren Johnson In Baghdad

Mrs. Frances Davis recently received a reassuring wire from her son, Warren Johnson, saying that he was safe in Baghdad and that she was not to worry. She also received word from her daughter-in-law, Ruth Johnson, telling that the American Embassy in Iraq evacuated Ruth and her two daughters, Shannon and Shelagh, to Italy shortly after the Iraqi uprising. Ruth and the little girls are living in a pension in Rome, daily expecting the arrival of a new family member.

Warren is a materials engineer for Edwards and Kelcey, of Newark, New Jersey, a firm engaged in a project for the Iraqi Development Board.

Nephew Visits Dick Lofton

Richard Matteson of the human development department of the University of Maryland is a consultant at a child development conference in Visalia this month. Last weekend he came to Carmel to visit his uncle Richard Lofton. In the fall he returns to Maryland to complete work for a doctorate.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

Assurance of God's readiness to supply all good to man will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul".

The ever-availability of divine goodness is set forth in the Scriptural readings, including this one from Luke (12:32): "Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom".

A correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy declares (60:29): "Soul has infinite resources with which to bless mankind, and happiness would be more readily attained and would be more secure in our keeping, if sought in 'Soul'".

The Golden Text is from Psalms (70:4): "Let all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee; and let such as love thy salvation say continually, Let God be magnified".

Mayor, 3 Councilmen Endorse Water District Norberg Says Niet

cessfully concluded by the action of the Monterey County Board of Supervisors directing that the issue be placed on the ballot for the November 4th election.

We, the undersigned Councilmen of Carmel-by-the-Sea, of whom some were members of the Water District Committee, and also interested citizens, wish to acknowledge and express our appreciation to the Chairman of the Committee, Mr. Ed Coffin, Councilman of Pacific Grove, and to Attorney Don Smith, for their long, exacting and continuous efforts to see through such an undertaking, made the more complicated by the necessity to reconcile the interests of six communities.

During the several meetings of the Water District Committee, our efforts were directed to the end that all information available be fully developed. We feel that this objective has been accomplished and therefore now support the formation of the Water District. The feasibility and advantages of municipal ownership can only be determined conclusively by the Water District Commissioners, for final approval or disapproval by the voters.

Sincerely,

John S. Chitwood, Mayor; Councilmen: Allen Knight, Tom May, Jr., James C. Buffington, Jr.

One signature is conspicuously missing from the above statement, that of Councilman Gunnar Norberg. His reason for not joining the other members of the Carmel City Council:

"My feeling is that insufficient study was given to the 14 possible formulas under which the Water Company could be taken over. Because of this I feel that I cannot honestly endorse the particular formula now being put up to the voters."

Council Delays Painful Duty To Reduce Taxes, Raise Employees' Pay

(Continued from Page One) roller. By the time the roller came up on the budget, we had already asked so many questions that everybody was hating us enough for one night.

We do know about the short wave radio transmitter and receiver, $450, which they are going to get for the fire house. Several years ago the council bought short wave equipment for all the fire trucks and arranged with the police department that if anybody at the fire house should want to communicate with the fire trucks when they are out, he could phone the police department and send the message through their short wave transmitter. But you couldn't expect the fire department to be happy using the police transmitter. Now they will be able to communicate on their own transmitter. They're willing to use the same band as the police department, however.

The object of the short wave communication is if there ever should be a second fire while all the equipment is out at a fire, the fire house could summon some of the trucks to go to the hypothetical new fire. We didn't dare ask why they couldn't blow the siren.

Mayor John Chitwood got for his department, city hall, a hot water heater for the girls in the city clerk's office, $200; paint job, floor finishing, file cabinets, typewriter, photocopying machine for the city clerk's and building inspector's offices, $1,455, and a public address system for audience to hear the council in the council chambers, $350.

The police got radar last year. This year all Councilman Allen Knight could think to ask for was two new patrol cars every year instead of one.

City Clerk Larry Rose produced so many statistics proving that it was more economical to drive the patrol cars two years, turning one in each year that Commissioner Knight didn't press the point, and $1,350 was stricken from the budget.

Stricken also was $5000 for the rest room at the south end of the beach, which no council has ever wanted since Geraldine Smith's term expired. It is put in the budget every year so the council can strike it out and feel economical.

About five years ago the planning commission had some plans drawn for it, and Bill O'Malley did a cartoon of it for the Pine Cone. Before that it was kicked around among the county board of supervisors, the city council and the planning commission, its fortunes waxing and waning. At the peak of its popularity, Carmelites spoke of it affectionately as "the little rest room," having a premonition, perhaps, even then, that it would always be a dream—never a reality.

—Wilma Cook.

School Board Buys Furniture, A Lot Of It, $25,932.27

The Governing Board of the Carmel Unified School District, following the Thursday evening's public hearing on the 1958-59 budget, bought $25,932.27 worth of desks, tables, lockers and audio-visual equipment.

Basket lockers for the high school gymnasium accounted for $1,689.80; audio-visual materials (projectors, film strips, record players, tape recorders, etc.) for $4,137.12. The rest, $20,110.35 went for library tables, book shelves, student and teacher desks and chairs to furnish the 10 new class rooms at the high school and six of the 10 at River, and for replacements throughout the school system. Furniture for the four remaining new class rooms at River will be purchased later when Mr. Greenfield, assistant superintendent, will have had an opportunity to observe the size of this fall's enrollment — physical not numerical.

On Mr. Greenfield's recommendation, the board chose desks and chairs graduating in size rather

Smoky Bear Reading Club Party Friday

On Friday morning, August 15, the Smoky Bear Summer Reading Club will have a wind-up party at the Girl Scout House. The time is 10:00 o'clock in the morning, and the invited guests are all the club members. Mrs. Pauline Heisinger, the children's librarian at the Harrison Library, is in charge of the party and promises a good time for everyone. Mrs. Heisinger urges all members to come to the party prepared to have a happy time.

There were 169 members in the club this summer. They were busy and happy reading books. Mrs. Heisinger says, and many were the ten-book capacity cards they filled out with authors and titles of the books they read. This party will end the club for this year.

than adjustable furniture. He said that it is better for the teacher to assign the students to furniture that fits them than to wait until the custodian can find time to come around with a wrench to make adjustments or for the teacher to attempt to do it herself. "Some teachers are not mechanically inclined," he commented.

Next low bid, rather than low bid, was accepted in several cases, the board selecting the furniture that would harmonize with that the district already has, and of materials that would resist scratching and other damage.

No one appeared to ask questions or offer objections at the budget hearing. The board approved the budget which will require a tax of $2.30. This, with the bond and junior college levy, will bring the total school tax to around $3.00.
